Joseph M. Freedman, Atty,
45 Goodwin Building,
Memphis, Tenn.

The weather has been something wonderful, certainly unheard of for this time of the year. It is really a pity to have to be shut in all day.

I am taking good care of myself see that you do the same. Remember me to all and tell them I hope to be there before long.

With love to my hubby and kisses galore, I close

Everlovingly
Frances

Jan 28, 1919.
Tuesday.

Precious Love: —

Received your Saturdays letter this morning and — wonderful news! — the mail has been so regular this week that I received a letter daily. It cer-tainly is disgusting to wait all day, expecting with each mail to get a letter and the next day you receive two.

All yesterday I longed for your dear same, awful; in the evening I wrote you the long letter and talk about being lonesome! precious it was awf-ful. I could no longer hold back all those tears. When I finally did close off, it was to feel myself sorta by reaching & moving toward you. In my sleep I could feel how happy I was. I soon awoke, though, and found that I was still in Bellevue and you were still far, far away in Memphis.

I know dear you must feel happy that you had your own office, and thank God, you certainly are doing wonderful for a start. I do hope you keep in touch with that Jewish lawyer he knew, like everyone else down there, is certainly taking a keen interest in you.

While there are certainly many, many things that I want to GET for myself - still, you know, that there is 75 owing to Mr Stone & 40 to Ada. I could never get anything for my self before I first settled off these debts. It sure is a long time, don't you think? So you see while I am happy to get the money from mom it will only pass thru my hands. It will take January & February's check to settle these debts - March's check will hardly cover my need for the trip - so if you are not able to help me out by that time, I am afraid that it will mean May before I can think of starting. I have tried to figure it out all ways but I guess this will be the best solution.